Your Water and COVID-19

- The coronavirus disease has no impact on the quality or supply of your tap water. The water we provide remains safe and reliable.
- While it's always advisable to maintain a supply of bottled water in the event of an emergency that interrupts normal water supply, Triunfo Water & Sanitation District does not anticipate that the coronavirus situation will disrupt water service to our customers.
- We purchase 100% of our water from northern California via the State Water Project. This water is extensively treated and frequently tested to ensure that it meets all stringent federal and state regulatory standards for healthfulness and quality. You can review our most recent annual water quality report here.

The coronavirus outbreak is a rapidly changing situation, and we encourage our customers to stay informed. The resources listed below offer up-to-date information on the outbreak, including precautions you can take to remain healthy:
